

Associating Recordings and Auxiliary Data

5 In order to match up individual recordings in a sequence (150) of recordings with corresponding items in a sequence (151) of separately-stored auxiliary data items concerning those recordings, both the recordings and auxiliary data are time-stamped, though from different clocks. The process of subsequently matching up the recordings and auxiliary data involves matching the pattern of timestamps.

10

(Fig. 15)

2025 RELEASE UNDER E.O. 14176